DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6/24/2009 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 17 and 30-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beyerlein (US 2003/0120297) as modified by Leclerc et al (US 2004/0067197).

Beyerlein discloses in Figure 9 a method for injecting a pharmaceutical agent beyond the EEL of a coronary blood vessel by 5mm or less and confirming the position of the needle.

Beyerlein discloses the claimed invention except for the step of confirming the position of the needle by injecting contrast media through the needle aperture. Leclerc et al teach in paragraph [0108] that it is known to inject contrast media through the needles positioned within a vessel wall for the purpose of ascertaining proper placement prior to drug delivery. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method of Beyerlein with the teaching of Leclerc et al since such a modification would ensure drug delivery to the desired target location.
